Dr. Kieran R. Hickey.

Saturday 22nd January: Registration 9.30am

10.00am onwards

- A) Recent developments in climate change; impact on Ireland
- B) Volcanic Ash; cold spells; Severe Flooding
- C) Responses by Local & National Govts to the disasters.

One of the novel suggestions that has emerged given our geographical isolation during the ash crisis is to consider a land connection from Ireland to Britain either by bridge or tunnel or a combination of the two. The feasibility of this will be discussed at the Seminar.
